Conference Keynote Presentation Engagement

– for Promotional Use –

Energetic, light-hearted and down-to earth, Sandi Givens has an authentic, engaging style that is guaranteed to inspire, expand and challenge your thinking. Rare in her ability to connect with audiences and leave people wanting to take action, Sandi's credentials as a world-class interactive speaker and successful businesswoman provide clients with a special magic.

A specialist in Shattering the Glass Ceilings that Limit Success, for more than 25 years, Sandi has catapulted the careers and business success of thousands of people, and provided them with skills that enable them to live their own personal leadership and the life they long for. She has a natural warmth with people and connects to their 'real world' with her artful use of stories, metaphors and masterful debriefing of learning activities.

Sandi is without doubt one of the most skilled communicators and facilitators of change that I have ever encountered in my professional career. Many participants comment that their learning with Sandi has been a 'life changing experience'.

An award-winning International Speaker, Author, Women's Executive Coach and MC, Sandi is an invaluable addition to our conference.

Learning with Sandi is an unforgettable and often life-changing experience. Her relaxed and pragmatic approach underpin her presentation style. Rather than 'prescribe' what people must do, Sandi believes her best contribution is made by provoking people's thinking and opening their minds to possibilities.

Sandi's compelling message is "Everyone's a leader ... it has nothing to do with your title at work. Your actions, your beliefs, your future ... it's your choice."
